Dear Parents/Carers,

As part of our curriculum work, pupils have a project to complete by Friday 16th October. Pupils may choose one of the questions below to work on based on our work from RE, DT or History; alternatively, they may choose to do their homework based on one of our British Values.

If your child needs any help, then please speak to Miss Grunill who will be able to suggest websites or books in our school library.

1. Hereward the Wake was another Anglo-Saxon who rebelled against the Normans. What did he do and what was the consequence of his actions?
2. Women had to make hard decisions during conflicts. Find out about one woman during any conflict and explain about her life and decision.
3. People all over the world rebel against government and authority. Choose a rebellion that interests you and present the information in an interesting way.
4. Many people try to make the world a better place. Choose someone you admire and explain how they manage this. Maybe you could write a letter to them saying thank you.
5. Create a photography exhibition of something that interests you (it could be a pet, a hobby or a place). Make sure you have permission of anyone you are photographing.
6. British Value of Democracy - Imagine you are standing in an election to become the leader of your school. Create a party name, logo and five promises. Explain why pupils should vote for you.

Yours sincerely,

J Grunill
